✳The Subterray Neon Mole✳ UCC 1st Ed.

Purpose of our paper;

Dear Readers,

The purpose of this publication is to provide we, the students of U.C.C. with a means of expressing ourselves freely without the censorship of the faculty. The editors of the Sub. Mole intend it to become a constructive and liberal sounding board for students' opinions and beliefs and we support a goal of peace, love, and understanding between the students and faculty alike. To do this we need your help and you can give this to us be submitting articles of gen. interest and participating in this joint effort to create a student togatherness here at UCC. (You know, parties, dates, etc.) At first this paper may seem to you a little scarce in it's "newsiness" and articles but this is only due to it's being the first issue and it will become better.

We have no social hangups so all factions of life will be included.

This paper is not meant to be in contention with the official UCC splinters which we happen to think does a fine job. The two are completly different, for while the other carries formal news, this one shall lean toward an informal commentary on school interests and affairs. All we ask for is a little piece with Irish.

Thank You.

Get Canned For Trying To Help? (bah)

There are those who swear that we're going to get canned for putting this out. We completly dispel this idea. This is a college not a high school and we think it's about time people started to think for themselves. Since the time we entered grade school, we have virtually been run by the faculty. They picked out what we were to study, they did this, they did that, and we do realize that this was necessary; then. We are aware that the purpose of the faculty now is to help, teach and guide. We have reached the point where we can (and do), appreciate their presence to quite some extent. These are the reasons which make us believe they will be somewhat pleased and surely not offended because we're creating something which should be of interest to the students. And in an indirect way, bring about a better and more positive administration also. I suppose we could even go so far to thank those who give us their support and guidance. Thank You.

Editor

The below space is provided in your general interest. Take time to Doodle.

As you noticed, this paper is free of charge. That's because it's not legal to sell but we're very grateful for your nickel donations.

Las Vegas Comes To U.C.C. (and leaves)

Everyone has seen or heard about the little green notices about prohibiting gambling on campus. What Nonsense!! We weren't gambling, we were only making our bread for the day. Shucks, how else is a guy sposed to eat? Oh well, win some, lose some.

NOTICE

It would please us and others too I'm sure if people would keep trash in garbage cans and in their minds, not on the ground and floors.

Did you hear about Millsprice when he worked over at the coast this last summer? It seems he was assist. bait man on one of the fishing boats and his boss thought he did such a good job that he was promoted to head-master-baiter. Spose that could be an interesting job. We wonder if any of the skills you learned will carry through to the military. When you go you have the best of wishes from all of us and hurry back. (so we can give you more gas)

Rumors are going around and of course among them are some goodies about Donn Moss's apt. Parties and all so Donn told us to tell you all that from now on he's keeping it cool.("No more parties"). He says, "Everybody thinks that all I use it for is to take girls to bed and that aint so." Okay Donn, if you say so we'll believe you. However it is kinda strange when some drunk chics come up to your apt. at 3AM and when you ask where they been they say, "Over at Donn's, he's throwing a party."

(Is a Title Necessary?)

Gazing at desecrated ruins
Shells of people past
Lost in halls of belonging
Selling self is today's task

Be like me, the way it is
Today's receipt of tomorrows way
The people's joke, come here and vote!
Sell yourself here today

Shrouded in Bibles, causes sublime
Crawling through victories with snivilling whines
Peace to my brother, my neighbor, can rot
And may no-one deny, I've earned what I got

And the ghettos can bask in filth and disease
And wars can go on and take whom they please
So long as I'm deaf and blind to me..and
The self I've sold quite gainfully

For I look like my brother and spew his ideas
I ask no questions and speak in terms of what is Crawl through the maze on the nine to five
Slit my neighbor's throat and thank God I'm alive....

to face tomorrow

Quite blind and alone.

And I awake to find my in the UCC library. Not a sound except for the soft background music that is playing, gently urging my mind on to further involvement in my studies. All around me are young men and women deeply engrossed in landscaping their minds and increasing their knowledge of the arts, humanities, Sciences and whatever else they wish. This can all be done without some cat from the faculity poking his nose into whatever is taking place. If desired, records are on hand and a superb stereo with headgear to provide one with the best in listening pleasure. Some guy doesn't stick his head through the door wondering what's going on when it's all too obvious that the reason you're in there in the first place is to get away from that type of B.S. I don't even see any of the UCC military walking in and hauling out some of the students creative work which they really had their hearts and minds in. The library is a place where one can observe the work of other students in the college. Wow.

You know, this really too much so I think I'll go back to sleep. An enviornment like this could only exist while I'm awake.

Kar of the Issue

Pick for our first issue is Steve Peterman's Burgandy and scratched cream, (a new mix), '60 Rambler Kustum. Only appropriate since it's the only thing left here on the lot at this time of nite; he's sitting on the lawn playing soltaire. This big machine sports a 196 cube power-house with a booming big Holley one barrel to give it that explosion of H.P. when needed to overtake the hot V.W.'s around here. Three times he's had it apart and back together and the chewing gum still holds. Carriers a 3 spd. on the column with a super over-drive which is needed for the nitro action which comes from his 1 pt. kerosine to 2 pts. water fuel mixture. Some of the extra features include vinal mats for easy clean ups, four doors with delay action handles, folding seats for we won't say, mud grips for that hard to track UCC freeway, a musical steering wheel, and back seats of custom 'Rip an' Tear'.

Parts for this bear-cat were supplied by 'Five Finger Discount super Save Mart' in Garden Valley.

For Sale: Good, outstanding, '60 Rambler.....See Steve Peterman.

For every issue we'll carry a small article which gives praise or otherwise for some member of the UCC faculty or administration. Our elite choice for thid issue is Boyd Swingly, Director of Bands at UCC. A very busy and fully reliable man, Mr. Swingley accepts all he does with a smile and an optimism hard to find now-days. We issue here a toast in tribute to this fine man of music! May he have the best of luck always.

Well fine people, that's that for this, the first issue of Sub Mole and we hope you turn on for the next. Involve yourselves in UCC activities and think about some articles for the next issue. We'll see you again soon and never cease to look for piece.

Love,
The Whole Mole Staff
